

LAS VEGAS-CLARK COUNTY LIBRARY DISTRICT SELECTS MONTEL'S LIBRARY STORAGE SYSTEMS

September 26, 2008

Montel, a pioneer of high-density mobile storage shelving system solutions, is pleased to announce that the Las Vegas-Clark County Library District has selected Montel's Aetnastak cantilever library shelving for the new Centennial Hills Library. In conjunction with Montel's local Authorized Distributor, Facilitiq Architectural Interiors, this contract will be for the supply and installation of Montel's metal library shelving.

The new 45,555 square foot Centennial Hills Library facility is being constructed on a 7 acres site located in northwest Las Vegas at the northeast corner of Buffalo and Deer spring. This facility encompasses a 30,000 square foot branch library with an additional 15,000 square foot central operations center, which will become future expansion for the library. The library will be an energy efficient and modern structure that utilizes both sustainable design and construction practices. Designed by architects JMA Architecture Studio and library space programmers Aaron Cohen and Associates, this facility will be seeking LEED Silver Certification when completed.
